

DAILY KENTUCKY YEOMAN.

OFFICE OF COURT OF APPEALS.

FRANKFORT, NOV. 25, 1865.

Editors of Commonwealth:

GENTLEMEN: Please say in your next paper, 1st. That I have sent a printed docket for December term to every newspaper in the State, to every Attorney having a case in Court, and to every County Clerk and Sheriff, so that all may know how matters stand and act accordingly.

2d. The records and briefs in all cases under submission (see Docket) are with the Judges, and safe.

3d. Copies of records made out in this office, or in the offices where cases were decided, will be received and filed in place of originals destroyed, and cases heard in due time.

Yours, &c., LESLIE COMBS, C. C. A.

Papers throughout the State will please insert this notice.

HEADQUARTERS KENTUCKY VOLUNTEERS. ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE. Frankfort, Oct. 29, 1865.

CIRCULAR No. 4. The attention of all soldiers, and heirs of deceased soldiers, who have claims against the Government, is respectfully invited to the following information:

The Legislature of Kentucky has generously made appropriations to supply Agents to attend to the claims of our soldiers without expense to them; and all soldiers, discharged or otherwise, and the legal heirs of deceased soldiers, will consult their own interest materially by employing these Agents, who will promptly adjust their claims with the Government.

Col. Chas. D. Penabaker, Military Agent of Kentucky, residing at Washington City, will promptly present and realize all claims of Kentucky soldiers free of charge. He is prepared to furnish blank forms of all descriptions upon application, and will cheerfully give information as to the proper manner of making out accounts. By applying to him the soldier will save both time and money; for his office being at Washington City, he is daily in communication with the Department and Auditing Department, which enables him at once to remedy any deficiency that may arise in their claims. Local Claim Agents, of course, expect compensation for their time and labor, and the soldier, by employing them, in addition to the expense, is employing a remote medium of communication with the Department, which necessarily attended with delay.

The State has also employed Local Agents at Louisville, Ky., Col. John W. Gault and Col. W. De R. Morrill, who will cheerfully render information and assistance to soldiers having claims due them by the Government, free of charge.

The U. S. Secretary's Commission, which has been the constant friend of the soldier throughout the rebellion, has established a Claim Agency at Washington, with Local Agents throughout the different States, and they earnestly invite all soldiers to confide in their Agents for the collection and settlement of their accounts.

Agents in Kentucky are herewith attached, and soldiers in their vicinity are requested to call on them for information.

J. S. Kanner, Bowling Green, Ky. John Mason Brown, Louisville, Ky. H. H. Burkholder, Louisville, Ky.

The soldier is thus furnished with good and reliable Agents to enable them to husband the means due them by the Government, and they are earnestly solicited to employ them without charge.

By order of the Governor: D. W. LINDSEY, Adjutant General of Kentucky.

PROSPECTUS OF THE

TURF, FIELD, AND FARM.

BEHAVING THAT THE INTERESTS OF THE American people demand a First Class Weekly Journal devoted exclusively to the Sports of the Turf and field, and to Agricultural and Literary Pursuits, we have made arrangements to publish such a paper.

With the return of peace to our land, war and its exciting issues will no longer engross the attention and form the chief topic of discussion. The people will turn with new vigor to the sports of the Turf and field, and to the breeding of fine stock, and to the development of the resources of the country.

The want of a Journal devoted to the best interests of the Turf and field, and to the breeding of fine stock, is now, to supply this want, we propose to establish the TURF, FIELD, AND FARM.

A Journal in the nature of a sporting and literary Journal, and one which will be of great value to the sportsman, the farmer, and the general reader.

It will contain the latest news of the Turf and field, and the breeding of fine stock, and the development of the resources of the country.

It will also contain the latest news of the Turf and field, and the breeding of fine stock, and the development of the resources of the country.

It will also contain the latest news of the Turf and field, and the breeding of fine stock, and the development of the resources of the country.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1865.

There never was a time when the institutions of our country were in greater danger than at present, and it can no longer be denied that there is a large party in this country who are in favor of a consolidated empire. The abolition party laughs to scorn the reserved rights of the States, and claims for the Federal Government all the powers of an absolute despotism. Led on by such men as Sumner and Wilson, their first onslaught was against the institution of slavery, and, having accomplished its destruction, they are now endeavoring to effect the ruin and degradation of the people of the Southern and border States. Whilst the States exercise the right to regulate their own domestic institutions, a right guaranteed to them by the Federal compact, these fanatics are powerless; but to carry out their ends they are determined to overlook and break down all the barriers of the Constitution, and they now openly proclaim the perfect and complete political and social equality of the negro with the white man. They claim that Congress has the right to regulate the elective franchise in the States, and openly avow their purpose to let the negro vote in defiance of all State laws. They have refused admission into the halls of Congress to the delegates from the Southern States, elected in conformity to the provisions of the Constitution, and wish to hold them as subjugated and conquered provinces. Such men as Sumner are not even satisfied with full negro equality, but are endeavoring to place the black man above his late master. It has been gravely proposed in the Senate of the United States that the negroes shall compose one-half of every grand jury where they form even one sixth of the population. This would give them control of the criminal law in every Southern State; and even in loyal Kentucky, it would give them the ascendancy in many of our counties. People of Kentucky, how would you like to see one-half of your grand juries composed of negroes? You abhor even such a thought and hurl back the proposition as an insult, but we tell you that even this has been proposed by Mr. Sumner, the great and acknowledged leader of the abolitionists in the Senate of the United States, and if you will look back for the last four years, you will find that his will has been almost omnipotent in that body. What Abolition or Republican paper do you see finding fault with this new and strange doctrine. No; whatever, but on the contrary they give him their plaudits, and acclamation of eulogy and praise.

It is a most fortunate event for the country that the President of the United States stands opposed to this arrogant and unwarrantable assumption of power on the part of Congress. In former years he was regarded as a State-rights man, and we are rejoiced that he has not forgotten the teachings of his earlier years. He professed to be a disciple of the illustrious Jackson, and most surely there was no man in this broad land who regarded the abolition party with more abhorrence than did the patriotic sage of the Hermitage. The President takes the true ground, the only ground upon which any patriotic statesman can stand, that the rebellious States were never out of the Union. If they are not in the Union, the Union is dissolved—and we presume no respectable man will maintain such an absurdity. If they are not out of the Union they are in it, and if they are in it they are most undoubtedly entitled to representation in the National Legislature. Even our glorious war of the Revolution was fought upon the principle that there could be no taxation without representation. For this glorious principle, and for its vindication, our Revolutionary fathers crimsoned with their blood the battle fields of their country, and their fame lives in never-dying song and story.

But now, oh shame, we have men among us who would burden our own brothers with taxes, and say to the people of whole States, you shall share with us the burdens, but not in the honors and privileges of free government. Such a doctrine is monstrous, and yet even in Kentucky we have a radical party who are by their works giving aid and comfort to these men. For them they have no word of abuse, and if perchance they are cornered and compelled to disclaim the acts of their Northern allies, they chide them in words as gentle as the cooings of a dove, and while they chide they almost seem to praise, and in the first secret place they meet they hold them in close fellowship and cordial embrace. Fellow-citizens of Kentucky, be not deceived by these men; trust them not, but watch them narrowly. One of the great issues before the American people now is, shall the negroes be allowed to vote—shall they constitute one-half of our grand juries in defiance of the laws of the States? These are grave and momentous questions for the people of Kentucky to decide, and we tell them that the abolitionists are all agreed upon this plan, and expect co-operation from the radicals of the border States.

The war now, most fortunately for all, is over. The brave and magnanimous are always generous to the vanquished, and let us thus act to our brethren of the South. Let us remember that we are members of one common country; that Washington and Jefferson were Virginians, that Sumner and Marion were Carolinians, and that the great Jackson was a Tennessean. Let us remember that the victorious eagles of our country were borne through the battle-fields of the Revolution, and the war of 1812, and the war with Mexico, by the brave soldiers and people of the whole country, and in thinking over the ancient glories of a united country, let us forget and forgive the bloody struggles of the last few years, and rather cherish, and foster, and warm into life that ancient friendship between the States which made our country the admiration and wonder of the world.

Blood enough has been shed; let mercy interpose her shield, and let us show the world that in going to war we were not actuated by vengeance, but by the desire to preserve the Union as our fathers made it, with the rights of every section intact and inviolate.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY THE FEDERAL PARTY.

The Republican party has not only taken up the principles of the old Federal party, which sought so earnestly to extend by construction the powers of the Federal Government, but has gone in practice far beyond it, in assuming through the President the exercise of powers nowhere conferred upon any or all the departments of the Government of the United States, and by the aid of the military having those assumed powers carried out. The President has assumed to interfere with the rights of persons to hold or run for offices in the States, and to prescribe qualifications for voters. When asked for the authority the only answer has been, shall disloyal men and traitors be allowed to run for office, or allowed to vote? This mode of answer never met the question fairly. It cannot be pretended the Constitution confers upon him any such powers, because it refers all qualifications for State officers, and all qualifications for voting, both for State and national officers, to the rules fixed by the State Constitutions and laws.

The Constitution of Kentucky having made every citizen of the United States, of the age of twenty-four years, and who has resided two years next preceding the election in the State, and the last year thereof in the county, town, or city, eligible to the office of representative in the Legislature, where is there, in peace or war, any power but in the lawful voters to prevent his being run, and if he can get a majority of votes given, from being declared duly elected?

Who is intrusted with the great prerogative to say he shall not be a candidate, because he is a murderer or because he is a traitor? If such authority was intended to be given the Governor of a State, or the President of the United States, is it not strange it was not conferred in plain language? Our theory is, the people are the sovereigns, and unless they have conferred powers they have retained them; and when in making the Constitution of Kentucky they defined who might run for office or vote for candidates, they gave to no one the right to prevent persons from exercising these high privileges. The Constitution meant something when it said, "no one can be deprived of his life, liberty, and property, unless by the judgment of his peers, or the laws of the land"—"that absolute arbitrary power over the lives, liberty, and property of free men exists nowhere in a republic—not even in the largest majority"—no, nor in Presidents or military Commanders. And when it declares that "laws shall be made to exclude from office and from suffrage those who shall thereafter be convicted of bribery, perjury, forgery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors, and that the privilege of free suffrage shall be supported by laws regulating elections, and prohibiting under adequate penalties all undue influences thereon from power, bribery, tumult, or other improper practices," it surely did not mean that the Legislature might pass a law to exclude every citizen from holding office or voting who would not swear when there was even no legal accusation against him, that he never had committed treason, perjury, or other high crimes or misdemeanors.

In the first place, if he were to swear he had committed such crimes, that would not be a confession; it would be a mere confession, not permissible by the Constitution to be given in evidence against him, if made out of court before a hundred witnesses, on a trial for treason, and only operative to deprive him of his rights to office, or suffrage, when a jury had found him guilty, and the judge had pronounced sentence upon him, under an act of the Legislature defining as punishment, or part of punishment, the forfeiture of his rights. In the second place, as the officers of the election could not legally try a man for any of the offenses, they could not enter judgment of conviction against him; his swearing or refusing to swear ought not to keep him from office or from suffrage. Citizenship nor suffrage can be taken from a man except upon conviction for crime, and that must be some act forbidden and made crime by law, before the act is done. It is a great mistake that men who have committed crimes have not rights. The man who kills his fellow by lying in wait, or by the coldest-blooded and inhuman act, may go right from the perpetration of the deed and vote, and there is no lawful power in any one to prevent him. So may the thief, the burglar, nay the perpetrator of treason itself, why? Because until convicted of the crime—and he cannot be convicted until he is tried—the Constitution does not exclude him. Vote him down if he is a candidate is all that can be done so far as that point is concerned.

Now the man, or men, who attempt, whether in or out of the military, to pronounce upon a man's guilt, and exclude him from voting, assumes the places both of court and jury. If he makes a condition upon him that he shall swear he has done no crime, he makes the man give evidence in his own case, when he is not on trial for the offense charged—when no judgment can lawfully be given against him; and they require an oath the Constitution does not demand. The man may have aided the rebellion, but in so doing he was not, nor is, a greater traitor to the Constitution and laws of the land, than were the men who outraged the people of Kentucky by interfering in their elections.

Fearful are the consequences which have grown out of the toleration of the outrageous elections. It emboldened the President and his military subordinates, not only to exclude men in Kentucky from running for office, and from voting, but they are now, when the rebellion has ended, and the people who were in arms have all submitted, exercising imperial rule over States and people. The executive of a great republic having constitutions and laws, and forms prescribed for changing and altering them, coolly and wickedly abolishing the State Governments, prescribing who may hold office, and who vote, and what shall be put in their new constitution; and proclaiming, unless done as he requires, that the States shall only be provinces under his military control!

God of the Universe, shall the liberties of the American people be thrown away and they aid in the doing of the deed to consummate the purposes of the wicked party in powers? They do not try to get along as the Federalists did, by loose constructions of the Constitution, but strike out boldly to reconstruct the government, as they call the process. The President says he don't dictate to the people of these States what they shall do, but if they don't make new State Constitutions, only such voting or holding offices as will take his prescribed oaths, and put in their Constitutions a provision against slavery, they will be held under military control. Halt, say those who have the forces, and give up your money and your clothes; we don't mean to rob you by any means, but you see we have the forces, and you can't pass on until our request is complied with. It is to be your own voluntary act, however, and that must be distinctly understood.

This is Black Republican rule, a new way of putting down a rebellion, by putting all those who were out of it on the same footing as those who were in it, and taking away all civil rights from both. Go it, Black Republicans, yours is a great party—you can beat the rebels far away in putting States out of the Union—so let her rip!—this is a great country of "young"—the balance of us have no interest in it.

A CARD.

The necessity for first-class labor for Kentucky farmers has become so much important for the coming year, that it is proposed to send to Europe direct for labor. The class of emigrants who come to America from Europe, on their own account, are generally a class which would not, in any respect, suit the Kentucky farmer. The only means of getting first-class labor from Europe, is to secure the services of some one thoroughly acquainted with all the wants of the Kentucky farmer—one who has an acquaintance and influence in Europe, which will enable him to get the best class of men and women to emigrate, and those who will fulfill their contracts. The Swiss and Belgians are noted for industry, honesty, fidelity, frugality, and neatness, and as agriculturists, are unexcelled by any people in Europe.

We, the undersigned, know Mr. Troye, and feel confident that he is in every respect the most suitable man to go to Europe to select laborers. Mr. Troye was born in Switzerland, but has been living in Kentucky for more than thirty years, and he knows the kind of labor needed by Kentucky farmers. His acquaintance and influence in Switzerland and Belgium are such as will enable him to secure labor, and he will know their characters before he offers them any inducement to emigrate. He will come with them, and see them properly set to work.

We therefore earnestly recommend all who are desirous of such labor to at once make arrangements with Mr. Troye, so that he may have sufficient inducement to introduce such laborers as we now so much need in Kentucky. We have confidence in Mr. Troye, and believe that he will perform all his promises.

IMPORTANT CAPTURE OF OUTLAWS.—Last evening a guard of soldiers brought to the city in an ambulance two young men who are recently attained an unenviable notoriety by their depredations in the interior of the State. These were known as "One Armed Jerry" and "King White." These men were captured at the residence of Mr. M. Thomas, near Bloomfield, Nelson county. Jerry was recently very badly wounded, and is considered a great desperado. When the ambulance carrying him was driven up to headquarters, he called for General Palmer and earnestly sought him for mercy.

White is a tall hand-some young fellow who formerly resided in this city. They were seized in prison and will be immediately tried by military commission.—Louisville Courier.

LEE AND THE VIRGINIA GRAYS.—General Lee writes to a gentleman in this city in reference to the recent senseless rumor that he had requested permission of the Government to retain certain pieces of artillery at Lexington for the use of his students: "I have nothing to do with the Military Institute here; I do not know there were any guns here; I have no use for any guns, and never made an application for them."—Louisville Courier.

PIANO.

(Soft and Loud.)

Never was this beautiful expression more properly applied to an instrument than to Kraushaar & Co's Piano.

The attributes, piano and forte, most beautifully harmonize with their nature, for they are both soft and loud.

This instrument possesses the sweetest and mellowest, and yet the most voluminous, most powerful, and richest tone of any piano that has yet been made, and so exceeds all, yes, all in the following essentials of a perfect piano-forte, viz: Elasticity and delicacy of touch, sweetness and evenness of tone, richness of power, and thorough and elegant workmanship.

The listener, regardless of his capacity for judging, stands buried in rapture and astonishment as its Eolian sweetness lathes his soul.

The pathos of him who sang

How sweetly sounds each melody note

Underneath the moon's pale face,

When the soft breeze sighs and floats,

Like lovers' sighs away.

must certainly have been inspired by a dream of the mellifluous tone of this unsurpassed instrument. We wonder not that this new manufacturer should excel the old celebrated firms, since this is an epoch of rapid progress, and one in which "stagnation is death."

The now celebrated firms had the advantage of the experience and knowledge of their predecessors; but Kraushaar possesses the additional advantage of profiting by their experience.

Their genius and skill elevated them to fame and prosperity. Now, as Kraushaar stands unrivaled, let him also enjoy the fruits of his genius and skill, and let the heart delight to imbibe the enchanting tones of his unrivaled Piano.

We commend it to all, and leave it to the instrument to sing its own eulogy.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.
Members of Congress are already overwhelmed with letters and personal applications from parties who wish to be nominated to department for positions in the army, a recent order having been issued for filling the vacancies in the regular army by an equal apportionment among the States, one Second Lieutenant from each Congressional district.

The Supreme Court of the United States has now before it the following case: United States plaintiff, in error, Leroy McWiley. It involves the question whether the President's pardon remits the sentence of forfeiture of real property, and reinstates the rebel in all his rights thereto. This was a motion of L. M. Wiley, defendant, in error, and an appeal to dismiss the writ of error, on the appeal of the United States on the ground that the President's pardon, and the acceptance and compliance of the terms thereof by defendant, did not discharge and remit the forfeiture for which sentence and condemnation was pronounced in the District Court.

The case originated in information filed in the District Court of the United States, for the Southern district thereof, and one Charles Gould was named as the informer. Under the acts of Congress of 1861 and 1862, commonly known as the Confiscation Acts, for the confiscation and forfeiture of 1,750 shares of the capital stock of the Great Western railroad company of 1859, and of upwards of $50,000 due of coupons of bonds of the same corporation, as the property of defendant. On the two-fold ground of illegal information: First, illegal use of property by Mr. Wiley, in aid of the rebellion, under act of 1861, and second, alleged treasonable acts of Mr. Wiley under act of 1862.

The motion to dismiss the cause was announced by Mr. Lard, and in its support it is understood that the constitutionality of the act of Congress, prescribing the test oath, is now before the Supreme Court.

On the application of A. H. Garland, of Arkansas, the whole question will be presented on Friday next.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.
At the session of the Senate of the Fenian Brotherhood, held in New York on the 7th, articles of impeachment were filed against John O'Mahony for perjury and malfeasance in office. The charges and specifications, which are very minute and voluminous, were served on Mr. O'Mahony the following day, with a notice to put in a plea in response within 24 hours, under penalty of having the penalty of default preferred against him. Mr. O'Mahony having taken no steps against the indictment preferred against him, the Senate to-day resolved itself a Court of Judicature, and, having investigated the charges, declared them proved, and deposed O'Mahony from the position of President. A unanimous vote was then passed calling upon Vice-President W. R. Roberts to assume the duties of office; on which that gentleman was sworn in, stipulating beforehand that no communication should be attached to the position while he occupied it.

The Secretary of the Treasury, R. D. Kilian, has also been deposed on grounds similar to those brought against O'Mahony. An address to the Senate has been issued by the Senate and forwarded by mail. The controversy about land will be referred to the next session of the Fenian Congress.

General Butler is expected here to-morrow, when their plans will be arranged. He has been engaged in preparing a reply to the resolution, it is reported, told that St. Louis a few days since that it would have been well, if there had been more corked bottles in the army in which General Grant made his headquarters.

LIVES LOST BY THE REBELLION.—The War Department computes the number of deaths in the Union armies since the commencement of the war at 350,000, and of the Southern soldiers at 225,000, making at least 575,000 lives that have been lost, a part of the costly price paid for the defense of the nation's life. At Gettysburg, 23,000 Union soldiers were killed, wounded, or taken prisoners—our greatest loss during one campaign. Gen. Grant's losses, from the time he crossed the Rappahannock until Lee's surrender, were about 40,000. Great are our losses, they were far below those incurred in European wars, owing to our superior medical and sanitary arrangements, and the care of the Government for its troops.—Lou. Journal.

SPECIAL ORDER.
An act to repeal an act entitled "An act to amend Chapter 15 of the Revised Statutes, titled Citizens, Aliens, and Expatriation," and Mr. Benton's substitute, which bill and substitute are as follows:

WHEREAS, It has been officially announced that the national act ory has been restored in all the States and Territories of the Union; and whereas, a more territorial Union is worthless, unless cemented and strengthened by general good will and fraternal feeling; therefore,
1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That an act, entitled "An act to amend chapter 15 of the Revised Statutes, titled Citizens, Expatriation, and Aliens," passed March 11th, 1862, be and the same is hereby repealed, and all persons coming within the purview of said act are hereby declared restored to and possessed of all the rights, privileges, and immunities that they may have had under the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth before the passage of said act.

2. This act shall take effect and be of force from and after its passage.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That any person who shall have been a resident for the year preceding his application, and has been a citizen of Kentucky, and shall have forfeited such citizenship by having engaged in or have been connected with the late rebellion against the Government of the United States, or against this State, and shall have received pardon from the President of the United States, or having accepted the terms of the amnesty prescribed by the President, may be restored to citizenship by producing such pardon or his oath of amnesty, before any court of record in this Commonwealth, in the county where he resides, and shall prove to the satisfaction of the court, by at least two witnesses, citizens of this State, that said applicant has for a year past behaved himself as a man of good moral character, has conformed to the requirements of said oath or pardon, and is attached to the principles of the Constitution of the United States and to the Government of this State.

Sec. 2. That said court, being satisfied the application should be granted, shall cause the proceedings to be recorded, and make an order restoring such applicant to all the rights of citizenship.

Mr. LILLY proposed to strike out the word "any court of record" in the last sec. and insert "any Circuit Court," which was rejected.
Mr. BENTON advocated the adoption of the substitute, as also Mr. Bell, and the same was opposed by Messrs. Botts and Conry, the last named gentleman arguing against the constitutionality of the act as imposing pains and penalties before conviction.

Mr. LILLY proposed to amend the substitute by excluding from the benefit of the act all such as may have been guerrillas. Which was adopted, and then as amended was rejected. Yeas 15, nays 21.

Mr. BENTON moved to amend so that the act should take effect from and after January 1st, 1866, which was rejected.
Mr. J. J. LANDRUM proposed to add to Sec. 1st that all persons who had actively engaged in the rebellion should be required to swear allegiance to the United States and the State of Kentucky. Yeas 19, nays 17.

The vote was then on the passage of the bill, and was as follows:
Yeas—S. Allan, R. T. Baker, M. M. Benton, N. R. Black, William S. Bots, John B. Bruner, Thos. P. Caldwell, Joseph H. Chandler, W. T. Chiles, F. L. Cleveland, Thomas B. Cochran, Ben. S. Coffey, A. D. Cosby, Wm. A. Dudley, W. W. Gardner, Evan M. Garrett, Lucien B. Goggin, Jas. W. Goin, T. W. Hammond, James Harrison, John L. Helm, Wm. Johnson, John J. Landrum, W. W. McKenzie, John A. Pratt, George C. Riffe, B. W. Vance, Phillip Sargent, C. T. Worthington, and George Wright—40.

Nays—Milton J. Cook, Thomas Z. Morrow, O. P. Johnson, Henry C. Lilly, J. D. Landrum, and Wm. J. Worthington.—15.

A message from the Governor stated that no official information of the adoption of the Constitution amendment had reached him, but that Mr. Seward had communicated to him that the States had ratified the same. Ordered to be printed and referred to Committee on Federal Relations.

The Senate then adjourned.

A MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE.
Was received by Mr. HARRIS, Clerk of the Senate, announcing the bill had passed in the House resolution to elect a United States Senator on the 25th day of January, 1866.

SPECIAL ORDER.
The House then took up the bill to repeal an act, entitled, "An act to amend chapter 15, of the Revised Statutes, titled Citizens, Expatriation, and Aliens."

Said bill reads as follows:

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That an act, entitled "An act to amend chapter 15, of the Revised Statutes, titled Citizens, Expatriation, and Aliens," passed March 11th, 1862, be and the same is hereby repealed, and all persons coming within the purview of said act are hereby declared restored to and possessed of all the rights, privileges, and immunities that they may have had under the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth before the passage of said act.

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect from its passage.

Mr. HARRIS moved the following as a substitute.
Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That an act, entitled "An act to amend chapter 15, of the Revised Statutes, titled Citizens, Expatriation, and Aliens," passed March 11th, 1862, be and the same is hereby repealed, and all persons who have lost any Constitutional, legal, or other right or privilege by the operation of said act, shall be, and are hereby, restored to the full and free use and enjoyment of the same as completely as if said act had never been passed.

Section 2. This act shall be in force from its passage, and may be pleaded in bar of any prosecution or further prosecution, or any indictment, or other penal proceeding, growing out of said act.

Mr. BELL offered the following amendment to the substitute, viz:

Resolved, That said person do take and have recorded in the County Court Clerk's office of the respective counties of their residence, an oath to support the constitution of the United States and State of Kentucky, before they have the benefit of this act.

Messrs. BELL, WOLFORD, STOUT advocated the adoption of the amendment, and Messrs. Lawrence, E. J. Davis, Conkin, Buckner, Kennedy, Bradley, Drayton, Lillard, Newell, and McHenry, opposed its adoption.

Mr. STOUT moved to refer the bill and amendments to the committee on the Judiciary, with instructions to report a bill, embodying the provisions of Mr. Bell's amendment.

Mr. ALLEN—Moved the previous questions.

Mr. STOUT's motion was rejected.

The question was then taken on the adoption of Mr. Bell's amendment to the substitute, and was decided in the negative, by the following vote:

Yeas—Mr. Speaker H. Taylor, Allen, Anderson, Armstrong, Ballew, Baker, Bell, Bingham, Burchett, Carlisle, Carr, Duggan, Faris, Finner, Gray, Gregory, Haythorn, Hays, Hays, Lacy, McDaniel, McHenry, Murphy, Myers, Owsley, Parrott, Patrick, Patton, Rogers, Riggs, Roark, Russell, Shepherd, Stott, Strobel, Van Suggen, Varon, Veatch, Wilson, Witten, Wolford, and Yandell—42.

Nays—Bjor, Bradley, Brien, Buckner, Bush, Calhoun, Crockett, Conklin, Connor, Corbett, Corbin, Covington, Cragg, Joseph W. Davis, Robert T. Davis, Drayton, Duffell, Fisher, Ford, Gardner, Gatewood, Harlan, Harris, Hindman, Hodges, Hudson, Kennedy, Lawrence, Lemon, Lillard, Lyon, McDowell, McGraw, McHenry, McMillen, Newell, Ozlevic, Poindeexter, Potter, Priest, Rodman, Thomas, Thompson, Trahan, Ammeter, Josiah Veach, Webb, Williams, Wood, Woolfolk, Wright, and Young—52.

The bill was then passed—Yeas 61, nays 33.

REPORTS.
The Speaker laid before the House the report of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, which was referred to the Committee on Education.

Also, the report of the Quarter-master-General, Ordered to print, and referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Also, the reports of Colonels Morrell and Gault. Printed, and referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

And then the House adjourned.

[From the Cincinnati Commercial.]
GENERAL PALMER AND HIS KENTUCKY
That General Palmer's interference with the election in Kentucky last summer was uncalculated for and a public calamity, is a proposition that at this time will receive pretty general assent. Whatever chance the party of Freedom and Progress had to gain ground in Kentucky was destroyed by the military folly. Under pretense of promoting the policy of the General Government there was, in some parts of the State, the grossest interference at the polls by soldiers acting under instructions from General Palmer; and the consequence is an overwhelming conservative majority in both branches of the Kentucky Legislature and the State more hardened in her hunkerism than ever. On Saturday last we published a card from a gentleman who was pronounced elected Representative from Kenton county, Kentucky, but who will not serve unless a new election is held and he is again returned. This gentleman, Mr. Harvey Myers, says:

"On the day of the election bodies of armed soldiers were placed before and around each voting place in the county, and there remained throughout the entire day. Early in the day, numbers of citizens, while approaching the polls in an orderly and peaceable manner, for the purpose of tendering their votes, were arrested by the soldiers, and marched away, under guard, to a prison, and there held in close confinement, until next day, when they were discharged, without any charge being preferred against them. In some instances, persons, on coming in to the polls, were met by a military officer, told that they would not be allowed to vote, and ordered to depart; and, while obeying the order, and departing from the polls, squads of soldiers were sent in pursuit, by whom they were arrested and marched through the streets to prison and confined, as stated above. At one of the voting places in the county two of the officers who had been legally appointed by the county Court to conduct the election, were, while in the discharge of their duties, arrested by the soldiery and carried to prison, or put upon parole to report to a Colonel in the city of Covington on the next day. It does not appear that these persons were disturbing the peace, or doing or threatening to do any illegal or unauthorized act, or that their arrest was ordered by the officers conducting the election. They were not allowed to vote, or to approach the polls, or to be heard by the judges of the election as to their right to vote. The persons so arrested all belonged to one of the two political parties whose candidates were before the people for their suffrages on that day. The purpose of the military commander, who controlled the soldiery, was to overawe and intimidate men belonging to that party so that they would avoid the polls."

So Mr. Myers, a sound Union man, will not take his seat. He is ashamed of such an election, as any good American citizen ought to be. And now General Palmer makes haste to be ahead of the President in proclaiming the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment and making a practical application of it in his department. We publish elsewhere his proclamation of universal emancipation. How does he know that the votes of the four Southern States given for the Constitutional Amendment are to be counted? Who has given him authority to determine whether Georgia, Alabama and the Carolinas have a right to cast votes as States in the Union? Neither their Senators nor Representatives are in Congress, nor are their civil Governors recognized by the highest executive authority. There is no act of a State that requires a more exact compliance with all the forms of law, and more perfect evidence of authenticity than that of voting upon an amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

And before such amendment is declared carried, and action taken thereon, the President and the Congress by proclamation and law, should make the official announcement, that there may be no chance for contention. Palmer, however, goes in after the manner of those things who are sometimes superior to angels in a rush, with a quibble, and proceeds to play Moses. If we could only have a little common sense in Kentucky, among the radicals, to serve our cause by contrast with the intense folly of the old fogies of that State, it would be a great relief. If there is any particular place in the world in which the devil is roaming up and down with such a very long chain that his movements are not impeded in the least, we imagine Kentucky must be the spot. Every body seems engaged in that State in getting up issues equally absurd and offensive, and the politicians and military are alike concerned in increasing and bedeviling the dreadful discord. Let all the rest of the States thank God they are not like Kentucky.

It is announced that General Butler will soon reply to General Grant. Of course he will. He is great on replies. He can reply to anybody on short notice. He can take, as he has often shown, either side of any question, and, lawyer-like, get up a case. But the point is, that as a military man, he was a constant blunderer, and never handled troops with efficiency. If a soldier had been in command of the Army of the James when it moved up James River, Richmond and Petersburg would have fallen at once. But Ben Butler had the army in charge, and he ran it into a sharp bend of the river, and sealed it up there, just as Grant says he did. As Chief of Police of New Orleans, Butler distinguished himself, but he is, as a military character, an arrant humbug. But he will reply to Grant, and there are fanatical stupidities who will believe the country has in the brilliancy of his rhetoric and the sharpness of his sarcasms, compensation for the thousands of men whom his incompetency has slaughtered.—(Cincinnati Commercial.)
